Morgans on view at Oakmere Morgan - Northwich

Oakmere Morgan held an event on Sunday 26th January at 10am to 2pm. They invited known owners in their area plus Devamog and Norcemog members. They served tea and coffee to all and bacon baps to the early birds. On show were six traditional Morgans, three, three wheelers and an Aero.

Starting with the three wheelers, it was good to see that one of the models had been chromed up and not before time in my opinion. Chrome spoked wheels and other bits on the front end. I know it is supposed to look old fashioned but I would like to chrome it up a bit more, including putting very wide chrome spoked wheels and tyres on it.

There was a good range of traditional Morgans, you know the ones everybody associates with Morgan and most of us have. Very noticeable was a Plus 8 looking the part in Corsa red and oozing grunt. A wolf in sheep's clothing having an Aero chassis with a very powerful engine.

Then there was the Aero, liveried in white with its futuristic rear end styling. The Aero now ends to a point a bit like the three wheelers. This will be a bit of a shock to anyone who was not prepared for it like me. Having looked at it over the hour or so I was there it definitely started to grow on me. It looks a bit odd but in time it could be a classic iconic shape. The funny Japanese type rear lights in opaque plastic are disappointing.

I am a Morgan traditionalist and would never change my Plus 4 for anything except maybe that awesome Plus 8. I was very disappointed to see the spare wheel had disappeared on the new models. I like to see the spare wheel. Also missing is the little side lights on top of the front mudguard. Very disappointed to see them gone although I understand they can be fitted as an after sale. The factory don't fit them any more due to health and safety. Don't send me down that road or I will blow Brussels up.

So all in all it was a very interesting day. Unfortunately it was cold and wet so we did not get to drive any of the vehicles on show. Oakmere Morgan offered anyone who arrived in a

Morgan a free health check which was very nice of them. Keep it up Oakmere Morgan and I hope they make it an annual event. Their grand opening was this time last year so maybe it is an annual event.

Norcemog Squadron Sortie to Birley Arms and Fairhaven Lake 9 February

How could I or anyone else resist a chance to meet up with fellow Morgan owners and experience sitting in the driving seat of a Spitfire? A Triumph Spitfire you may ask. Absolutely not – much, much better than that - a replica 1942 Supermarine Spitfire Mark IX! The small boy in me simply would not sit still and can you blame him? It even tempted some out of deepest, darkest Shropshire!

Meeting up at the Birley Arms between Wrea Green and Warton was straightforward and easy, particularly for those with local knowledge or who had taken the precaution of making a flight plan. Others, particularly those who hail from Sale decided that serendipity ruled and entertained Wrea Green residents with many sightings of the same Morgan. Lunch consisted of sizeable helpings yet the clamour of conversation continued unabated. Irene was defeated by her turkey – no, not John this time!

A short drive after lunch to an industrial estate revealed the location of the Spitfire. Within a 'hangar' shared with an ex-War Dept 10 hp Vauxhall and an ex-RAF fuel bowser, sat the Spitfire minus its wings which were stored on a wheeled trolley. Some enthusiastic and hardy Norcemog members helped wheel the trolley outside revealing the superb replica Supermarine Spitfire Mark IX within wearing the livery of the Mark Vb of W3644 bought by the inhabitants Lytham St Annes during the war. Sgt Ridings, it's 20 year old Lancashire pilot and W3644 was lost in action on a bombing mission over Morlaix, Brittany in 1942.

For those sad individuals such as I who appreciate such facts, this particular replica was apparently the first fibreglass replica to be built and installed as a gate guardian to RAF stations when the RAF realised that the genuine articles were worth large amounts of money. This one was installed at RAF Hooton near Ellesmere Port which, if I'm correct, was coincidentally the airfield from which the last operational RAF Spitfire, part of the meteorological flight, flew.

There was a constant stream of Norcemog members ready to sit in the cockpit and after an introductory talk by the volunteers, they were assisted into the cockpit and given an explanation of the controls and instruments. Some even requested the cockpit canopy to be closed despite claims of claustrophobia!

Incidentally, there were no strains of the Dambuster's March or 633 Squadron coming from anyone's lips – after all, Norcemog members are a well-informed bunch and do know that these films are dedicated to the pilots and aircraft of 617 and 633 Squadrons which of course flew Avro Lancasters and de Havilland Mosquitos. What an intelligent lot!

For my part, I patiently dozed sitting in a Lloyd loom chair listening to the gramophone and lazily leafing through Picture Post when I was rudely awakened by the clanging of a bell and loud shouting. Before I knew it, I was in the cockpit but thankfully the dream stopped there! Just as well as without wings and a Merlin engine, take-off would have been impossible!

After our enthusiasm for this iconic and wonderful aeroplane had been satiated, we all drove in convoy to Lytham's Fairhaven Lake where there is a life-sized replica Spitfire installed twenty five (imperial) feet in the air on a plinth as if on a very low pass over the lake. Beautiful! The volunteer from the Spitfire display team was on hand to photograph the proud line-up of Morgans and before long it was loaded into Facebook (rather than in Picture Post!).

Norcemog Squadron's infamous A and B Flight pilots ready to taxi off for their sortie to Fairhaven Lake in Supermarine Spitfire Mark 9s

Finally and to quote the famous BBC war correspondent of the Falklands Brian Hanrahan: "I'm not allowed to say how many joined the raid, but I counted them all out and I counted them all back." It was a truly excellent day – thank you Isobel & Peter!

AGM AGENDA NOTES

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

In order to keep Norcemog attractive to and enjoyable by, its members we need to keep a steady flow of new ideas for our events. This can be assisted greatly by a regular turnover of committee members. Several of the current committee have been officers for approaching 10 years one or two even longer.

Our constitution requires that all the Officers of Norcemog need to be elected each year, we therefore require volunteers to fill ALL the various positions.

Please consider volunteering to join the committee in any of the positions and help by bringing some new blood to the organisation. If you are prepared to help (or know another member who is), please use the form below to make a proposal. (be sure to confirm the person is willing to stand if you are proposing another member).

We would like to see as many Morgan cars as possible at Waddesdon in support of Help for Heroes. In return for a minimum donation of £5, cars will be parked in front of the elegant French Chateau style manor house offering a superb photo opportunity. Waddesdon Manor is a grand and beautiful 'Rothschild' / 'National Trust' Estate located on the A41 between the towns of Bicester and Aylesbury. www.waddesdon.org.uk.
